THE IMPROBABLE TRUE STORY

1942. Two men are in a Japanese Prisoner of War cell in Hong Kong. One is Morris 'Two-Gun' Cohen, an East London Jewish born adventurer, con-man, gambler and charlatan who after imprisonment as a child for pickpocketing was sent away, aged 15, by his despairing family to a distant cousin's ranch in Canada and through a sequence of unlikely events ends up as a General in the Chinese Army.

The other is Seymour Major, the Head of Hong Kong Special Branch. Facing a precarious and uncertain future, they pass the time talking about how Morris acquired his legendary nickname and status.

A remarkable man who survived world and civil wars and was integrally involved with the key figures and events in the development and separation of modern China and Taiwan a situation that is still making headlines today.

Conceived and directed by Spencer Simmons and written by Spencer Simmons, Brian Seaton and Liam Rand. Featuring Jonathan Meyer as 'Morris Cohen' with Brian Seaton as 'Seymour Major'.
